

Faculty Resource Network Summer 2017 Programs

Faculty Resource Summer Seminars will be held from June 12 to June 16, 2017 at New York University's Washington Square campus.

Application deadline — Monday, February 6, 2017.

Participation in FRN programs is FREE and open to all full-time Farmingdale State College Faculty. To learn more about the Summer 2017 Scholar-in-Residence program, or to find out more about specific seminars, please check the FRN Website at www.nyu.edu/frn.

The following seminars will be offered for Network Summer June 12 –June 16 2017

(Complete descriptions and applications can be found at the FRN website):

Cuba Now and Next

Designing Innovative Curricula in Health Science and Public Health

Ethnic Identity in Antiquity

Global Challenges and The Future of Business

Hopes and Fears: U.S. Immigration and Migration Narratives

Integrating Humanities into STEM and Professional Studies

Learning in the Digital Age: Theory and Practice

Rock and Soul: Race and Gender in American Music

Strategic Collaborations With Faculty: Intersections of Scholarly Communication, Teaching & Research

Teaching Shakespeare

The Global South and Cinemas of the Americas

Understanding Story for Social Justice in the Classroom

The Faculty Resource Network provides an excellent opportunity to network with other scholars in many disciplines, participate in stimulating faculty growth programs, and develop scholarly activity and publications. For more information, contact Dr. Jeff Gaab (gaabjs@farmingdale.edu-- 631.420.2467) or visit the FRN website for the latest information at www.nyu.edu/frn and applications.