Uncertainty Handling in Artificial Intelligence: Issues & Applications
Dr. Srinivas Nowduri

The Department of Security Systems and Law Enforcement Technology
Fall 2016 Lecture Series

The Department of Security Systems and Law Enforcement Technology presents a series of lectures by experts in the fields of criminal justice, law enforcement, and security. Lectures will be held at Farmingdale State College. All are welcome to attend.

The uncertainty involved in the utilization of artificial intelligence is presented. Dr. Nowduri will define uncertainty as it relates to artificial intelligence and discuss both the applications of artificial intelligence and the issues with the implementation of such technologies. Dr. Nowduri will present a new formalism for uncertainty representation and compare it with existing statistical and logical theories.
