

FARMINGDALE ALLY TRAINING

Do you want to learn how to better support your LGBTQ students, colleagues, and friends? Do you have a general sense of what LGBTQ means, but aren't sure about all of the rapidly-changing terms? Are you pretty sure you're "ok with" LGBTQ people but not sure how to put your acceptance into practice?

The aim of Ally Training is to educate Farmingdale community members about supporting LGBTQ people in your classes, departments, organizations, workplaces, and communities. This interactive workshop is facilitated by Dr. Clare Forstie, Assistant Professor in the Sociology and Anthropology Department. All students, staff, and faculty are welcome, and all are encouraged to bring your knowledge and questions.

Thursday, April 19th, 3pm – 5pm
Roosevelt 111

Friday, April 20th, 9am – 11am
Gleeson 102

To register:
email clare.forstie@farmingdale.edu

Sponsored by the Office of Diversity,
Equity & Inclusion

Farmingdale State College
2350 Broadhollow Road
Farmingdale, New York 11735
631-420-2000 ■ farmingdale.edu

Farmingdale
State College
State University of New York

The State University of New York