

Girl Power in STEM:

Think equal, Build Smart, Innovate for Change

Saturday March 9, 8:30 AM through 2:00 PM

*Student Activity Center
Stony Brook University*

Hosted by Brookhaven Women in Science and Women in Science and Engineering

The symposium celebrates women accomplishments in Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM). Our aim this year is to inoculate participants with new ideas that can be easily adopted by all of us to promote and sustain women in STEM fields. Speakers from academia, government and private sectors will discuss the impact of women in STEM careers.

Keynote Speakers

Cathy Cutler, MIRP Director, Brookhaven National Laboratory

Shobhana Narashima Dean Academic Affairs, Jawaharlal Nehru Centre for Advanced Scientific Research, Bangalore, India.

Carolina Jimenez Garcia Senior Layout Artist en Scanline VFX, Vancouver, Canada.

Panelists

Maria-Isabel Carnasciali (University of New Haven);
Andrea Duhon (Marshall University); Victoria Hernandez (William Floyd School District); Ivy Olberding (Brookhaven National Laboratory); Camila dos Santos (Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory); Jinelle Wint (Stony Brook University)